

List of open or partly-free e-journals indexed by JURN.org, at the end of 2nd April 2011.

See the JURN weblog (via links on www.jurn.org) for any updates to this list.

JURN is meant primarily as an index of English-language open access e-journals. Non-English journals are also indexed, although not in a comprehensive manner. The majority of journals or magazines indexed are "open access" or largely "full-text" - but JURN also indexes those that offer significant free full-text content (e.g.: all of their book reviews, or some of their older archives), without the need for registration or other barriers. Newsletters are indexed only if they have substantial articles, conference reports and/or book reviews. Journals offering only tables-of-contents and/or abstracts are not indexed by JURN.
